

Contributors

Shui Kau Chiu is a teaching colleague from the Technological and Higher Education Institute of Hong Kong. His research interests cover education, history, risk perception, and science, technology and society. He has published several peer-reviewed articles and book chapters and also served as a manuscript reviewer for different academic journals.

Ann Gillian Chu is an Assistant Professor at Hong Kong Baptist University and a Visiting Fellow at the University of Leeds. She received her Doctor of Philosophy from the University of St Andrews. Dr Chu's research interests are Hong Kong studies, Hong Kong Christianity, sociology of religion, and theological ethics.

Catherine Li Lanqing is currently a PhD student of English Literary Studies at the Chinese University of Hong Kong (CUHK). Her research interests include Hong Kong literature, archipelagic thinking, island literature, and Hong Kong studies.

Oscar Man is a PhD Candidate in the Amsterdam School for Cultural Analysis at the University of Amsterdam. His research interests include popular music, critical theory, and sensory culture. His recent project is on indie pop in Hong Kong, under the ERC-Advanced project 'Resilient Cultures – Music, Art, and Cinema in Mainland China and Hong Kong (RESCUE)', funded by the European Union.

Christian Nathen Ng holds a PhD in Religious Studies from The Chinese University of Hong Kong. He is a research fellow at Mok Lai Chi Research Centre for Global Pentecostal Studies, Ecclesia Theological Seminary, Hong Kong. His research interests include Hong Kong Pentecostalism, local church history, and World Christianity.

Pit Hok Yau, Tim is a PhD student in Asian Studies at The University of British Columbia and the Research Lead for the Hong Kong Animal Law and Protection Organisation. His primary research interests lie in non-human animal history and welfare, alongside topics within Environmental Humanities such as waste studies and the climate crisis.